

NANSEMOND JOINS GOOD ROADS MOVE

Organization Effected and Campaign Will Be Pushed Right Vigorously.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SUFFOLK, VA., March 8.—At a well attended mass-meeting here this afternoon the Nansemond County Good Roads Association was organized, with the following officers: Lorenzo A. Deans, of Churchland, president; W. Q. Peale, of Holland, Claude T. Milton, of Everett's, Frances R. Elinor, of Whitleyville, Frank Wright, of Deans, and C. A. Shoop, of Suffolk, vice-presidents; E. W. Smith, secretary and treasurer.

Addresses were made by Robert W. Withers, president of the State Good Roads Association, and Charles T. Lassiter, first vice-president and chairman of the executive committee.

W. Q. Peale, one of the State vice-presidents, presided. H. L. Harwood, State treasurer of the association, and George W. Rogers, assistant, also were present.

Outlines Purpose.
Mr. Withers outlined the purposes of the meeting, its relation to the State association, the plans by which the county could raise its proportion of the money, and other details.

He said that the people of Virginia annually over $1,000,000,000 mud tax.

Mr. Lassiter said some good things about the road law which had been gotten up by Mr. Withers and himself. He declared that he had been working for good roads for sixteen years, and that his father had labored for the same end thirty years before he began.

The speaker said he was present as a paid representative of the Good Roads Association and was trying to earn his salary. He said he had written to 8,000 country school teachers and 2,000 country doctors on the roads question.

Death Rate Less.
Mr. Lassiter declared the death rate of prisoners on the roads was much less than among those kept confined. Out of 500 who worked there was no death in a year, but during the same period twenty-five died in the penitentiary.

AN OLD GRUDGE.
Negroes Had Long Borne Enmity Toward Each Other.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., March 8.—The killing of Henry Epps, both colored, was tried in the Mayor's court this morning and sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury. From the evidence given in this morning it appears that the two men having been on bad terms for some weeks. Some weeks ago the two men had a quarrel, and Smith, a white man, had repeatedly sworn vengeance. Saturday he told some words that they could look out for warm times that night.

About 10 o'clock Epps came into the store at Five Forks. Smith was playing with a young negro who had been drinking. Epps had been drinking, and immediately began to make trouble. In a few minutes after Epps had been drinking, Smith was talking to him, and he was grabbing the negro by the throat, bent him back over the counter. Smith, drawing his knife, stabbed him several times, literally hacking him into pieces before they could be parted. Epps staggered out of the store, swearing that he would return for Smith. Smith, calling for his bundles, hastily left for his home. Several hours later Epps was tracked by blood and found dead about half a mile from the store, on the way to Smith's home.

Patriotism
The stomach is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils. The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
It builds up the body with sound flesh and solid muscle.

The dealer who offers a substitute for the "Discovery" is only seeking to make the little more profit realized on the sale of less meritorious preparations.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper covered book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Use the Ledger That Locks and Protects
That keeps your records safe; that makes it impossible to change leaves without having the Yale key.

THE MANN YALE LOCK LEDGER is made to fill every requirement of the modern equipped office.

VIRGINIA STATIONERY CO., Inc.,
J. A. Burchett, Pres. Sam Iseman, Sec'y & Treas.
Stationers, Printers, Engravers, 915 E. Main Street
Agents for the Shaw-Walker FILING SYSTEM

A Large Pot
of the celebrated and palate-tickling

English Orange Marmalade, 20c is ready for your choosing. It is made of the finest, most carefully selected fruits by the receipt that made marmalade famous.

HERMANN SCHMIDT, Leaders in Select Groceries, Delicatessen, Wines and Liquors.
504 to 508 East Broad Street.
Mail Orders Filled. Phones 369 and 3999

News of Petersburg

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
109 North Exchange Street,
Petersburg, Va., March 8.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy of South Carolina, having raised the necessary sum of $400 for the purpose, to-day ordered from New York the memorial window to be erected in the old Blandford Church in memory of the soldiers of South Carolina buried in Blandford Cemetery. The window will be installed under supervision of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Petersburg, who hope to have it in readiness for unveiling on the 9th of June, our Confederate Memorial Day. The memorial window will be largely represented at the unveiling. The South Carolina Daughters have selected the Apostle St. Mark as the representative figure for their window. The apostles selected by the States for the memorial windows thus far erected are: St. John, by Virginia; St. Peter, by Missouri; St. Bartholomew, by North Carolina; St. Paul, by the Washington Artillery, of Louisiana, and St. Mark, by South Carolina.

These windows are of very handsome design, and the cost is $100 each. Every Southern State is represented by its dead heroes in Blandford Cemetery, and each State has been invited to install a window in memory of its dead. This will be done in course of time, and the historic old church will truly become, as it is intended to be, a beautiful memorial chapel.

Monument at the Crater.
The A. P. Hill Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, at its last meeting took decisive action for the erection of a handsome monument at "The Crater," to commemorate the Confederate victory and the heroism of the Southern soldiers in that famous battle. And in their patriotic efforts to preserve the records for history, the camp has gone further and have decided to erect permanent markers on the many fields of battle around Petersburg. The A. P. Hill Camp of Veterans has done some work in this direction, and contemplates doing much more. There are many spots that should be marked before the gallant old Confederate soldiers familiar with them have passed to their reward.

Meeting of the Board of Aldermen.
The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held this afternoon. Concurrence was voted in all the appropriations, regular and special, made by the Common Council, and in the various resolutions and orders adopted by that body, including the resolutions to unite with the Governor of Virginia and the authorities of Pennsylvania in inviting President Taft and his Cabinet to Petersburg on the occasion of the unveiling of the monument erected at Fort Mifflin, in memory of General Hartman's Division of Pennsylvania troops. The board also concurred in the resolution of the Council to investigate the manner in which certain amendments to the city charter adopted by the last General Assembly.

A Purim ball will be given in the Library Hall to-morrow night, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Congregation B'rith Achim.

Rev. Vernon L. Edmonds, of this city, recently ordained to the Baptist ministry, has accepted the call extended to him by the congregation of the Baptist Church at Broadway, in Rockingham county, and will enter on his pastorate there as soon as the parsonage which he is building is completed. Mr. Edmonds has many friends in Petersburg, whose good wishes will follow him.

Personal and Otherwise.
At the morning service yesterday at the Second Presbyterian Church the congregation elected Robert McF. Friend to the office of elder. Two other elders are to be elected next Sunday.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Second Presbyterian Church held their annual meeting Sunday afternoon, and the reports submitted were very encouraging. The society heard a very interesting address by Mrs. W. C. Buchanan, wife of the Presbyterian missionary to Japan.

Head Camp L. Woodmen of the World, which embraces the States of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, will meet in annual session in Lexington to-morrow. The delegates from the camps in this city are L. B. Hargrave, Rev. C. B. Richards, Charles H. Godsay and Edward Mayes.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD.
Norfolk Believes It Can Secure Belt Line Extension.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., March 8.—The old proposition, and an improvement so long desired by the business men of Norfolk, the extension of the belt line around the city to Lambert's Point, thus making available a larger stretch of territory for business and industrial plants, will be taken up this week at a special meeting of the Industrial Commission, to be called at once by President J. M. Dickson.

One of the drawbacks to industrial plants in the eastern and northern sections of Norfolk is the lack of adequate and prompt railroad service and trackage. Once the belt line is established, this will be solved, and the number of sites available for industrial plants will be increased about a hundred fold. Mr. Dickson is confident that the matter can be brought to a successful conclusion.

Another matter to be considered is the establishment of a public or municipal wharf and the improvement of the Norfolk county ferry, approached by an eyegore at present to all citizens.

HEARING DAMAGE SUIT.
Burnett Demands $30,000 for Injuries Sustained.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WELDON, N. C., March 8.—Arthur Burnett against the Roanoke Mills Company, of Roanoke Rapids, is the plaintiff in a hearing damage suit filed in Halifax Superior Court to-day. Burnett was injured last fall while at work in the mill, losing his left arm, and being otherwise damaged about the head and face, and he asks for a verdict of $30,000.

Mr. Burnett is represented by Congressman Claude Kitchin and Senator E. L. Travis. Appearing for the mill company are Hon. W. E. Daniel, R. C. Dunn, George C. Green and Thomas W. Davis, of Wilmington.

The case promises to be a big legal battle, and it will take several days to take testimony and for the argument. Judge O. H. Gulon, of Newbern, is presiding.

Struck by a Train.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
EVINGTON, VA., March 8.—This evening Southern train No. 43, the fast mail, struck and injured W. Baxter Reynolds, who was walking on the double track here to take a train for Lynchburg. Mr. Reynolds had been visiting his niece, Mrs. John M. Ogden, who lives in the country. The injured man is fifty years old. He is a section foreman for the Norfolk and Western. He was taken to Danville for medical treatment, and to-night is still unconscious.

AN OLD VETERAN TAKES OWN LIFE
Follower of Lee Sends Bullet Crashing Through Brain at Catonsville.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
TEMPERANCEVILLE, VA., March 8.—Word has just reached here of the suicide of George W. Oldham, of this place, well known in Accomac county, Va., and a Confederate veteran, who ended his life by shooting himself in the head with a pistol in the stables at the country home of his son, Leroy Oldham, Catonsville, Va.

Oldham, who was sixty-two years of age, had been in ill health for several years. He arose in the morning and after eating breakfast went to the stable. About 10:30 o'clock Ernest Ighehart, an employee of the place, was startled by the report of a shot, and on investigation found the old man seated on a trunk in the storage with a pistol by his side, a stream of blood flowing from his head. Coroner Pakendorf, of Catonsville, gave a certificate of suicide.

Mr. Oldham was born in Northampton county, Va. When seventeen years old he enlisted as a private in the Nineteenth Virginia Artillery, connected with General Ewell's corps, and later served in Crutcher's Brigade, in Lee's Division. He was wounded in battle and later captured and paroled near the close of the war. He returned to Temperanceville and engaged in business.

He is survived by his son, Leroy Oldham, connected with a Baltimore company, and with whom he had been residing for the past two years, and one daughter, Miss Grace Oldham, Principal of the public school at Victoria, Va.

The body was brought to Temperanceville for burial.

DATE IS FIXED.
Arguments on Motion for New Trial Will Be Heard March 19.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SUFFOLK, VA., March 8.—Friday, March 19, being breakfast, and Judge James L. McNamee for hearing arguments on the motion for a new trial for Sam Hardy, convicted of killing Tibertus Gracius Jones at Holland October 25 last. Besides the allegation that the verdict may have been influenced by the jury having witnessed motion pictures portraying tragedy scenes, it will be argued that the judge, in his admission of evidence showing that Jones came to Suffolk on the day of the tragedy to prefer charges against Hardy, and that the jury was improperly summoned.

OFFICERS IN TROUBLE.
Cited to Appear to Explain Alleged Improper Conduct.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., March 8.—Police Officers A. J. Hodges, P. T. Cherry, W. A. Davis, W. H. McWilliams and Elsie A. Dyer, all of the Western Branch magistracy, listed in the Norfolk county court yesterday, were cited to appear before him at 10 o'clock on the morning of March 11 to show cause, if possible, why they should not be removed from office on charges of conduct unbecoming officers of the law.

Body is Identified.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., March 8.—The body of a drowned man, which was found on the beach at Edgewater last Friday afternoon, has been identified as that of L. D. Walker, of South Norfolk, who disappeared from a barge on the James River about six weeks ago. It will be buried to-day in the Red Men, of which he was a member, and properly buried.

Negro Kills His Wife.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
MEHERRIN, VA., March 8.—John F. Edwards, an employe of a rock quarry near Kenbridge, shot his wife yesterday evening, killing her instantly. It is stated that they were quarreling over a trivial matter, when the husband pulled out his gun and shot her in the neck. The negro made his escape before he could be arrested, but officers are scouring the country in search of him.

Mrs. Edwards Dies.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., March 8.—Mrs. Carrie H. Edwards, who was shot several weeks ago by her husband, died last night at her residence on Holt Street, never recovering from the wound in her head, which later proved to have damaged the base of the brain, paralysis setting in. After shooting his wife Edwards, who was from Richmond, killed himself. The incident will be at Waverly, Va., the former home of Mrs. Edwards.

Chicago Sails.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., March 8.—Following repairs at the navy yard, the United States cruiser Chicago sailed for Annapolis this morning. Being a two-funnel boat, one behind the other, it was a sight rarely seen in these days of the more modern craft.

No State Aid This Year.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., March 8.—The board of supervisors of Middlesex county has decided not to apply for State aid for improvement to the public roads during the present year, but will endeavor to do so next year.

About Dining-Room Furniture
We have the best selection of all grades to be seen in the city in Golden Oak, Mahogany and Early English.

Sole Agents
McDougall Kitchen Cabinets and New Process Gas Ranges

Jones Bros. & Co., Inc.
1418 20 East Main Street.
CASH OR CREDIT

CREDITORS SEIZE TRIGRA HOTEL
B. L. Partlow, Staunton Contractor, Is a Bankrupt—Liabilities Placed at $94,984.83.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
STAUNTON, VA., March 8.—B. L. Partlow, of this city, filed notice of bankruptcy to-day in the United States Court at Harrisonburg. He places his liabilities at $94,984.83 and his assets at $53,145. His chief creditors are R. N. Page and J. N. Colner, of Augusta county, to whom he owes $18,500, and the National Valley Bank, of this city, $16,000. Other creditors forced the bankruptcy proceedings by attaching the hotel.

Mr. Partlow has been contracting builder here for about twenty years, having owned and built a great many homes and opened up much residential property.

The Virginia Hotel and furnishings under attachment are being advertised for sale to-morrow, under attachment by the City Sergeant, but it is expected that Judge McDowell, of the United States Court, will order a stay.

REMANDED TO JAIL.
Alleged Cocaine Vendor at Last in Tolls

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, VA., March 8.—Waiving examination, D. W. Simons, of Washington, D. C., was remanded to the Corporation Court by Police Justice Simons to-day to answer the charge of having cocaine in his possession. He was further remanded to jail.

Simons was arrested by Detectives Pettis and Strawhand last Saturday afternoon, when they found him with eight ounces of the "rock" in his possession. They carried him to the Second Precinct Station, where he was held until a further investigation was made, and by 5 o'clock the detectives had finished their work. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then the chief of police ordered him to be taken to the police station, where he was held until he learned through a spotter that he was in Norfolk. By appointment, Detectives Pettis and Strawhand were expected to visit in the morning, and when he made his appearance they nabbed him. Then